

SOCIETY

ONE of the largest events of the week, emphasizing the hospitality of a delightful household, was that at which Mrs. Henry Bond Restarick and Mrs. Reynolds Brodie McGrew were hostesses on Thursday, in honoring Miss Flora Lachmund. The affair took on the more significance in that the engagement of the honored guest to Mr. Arthur Restarick, son and brother of the hostesses respectively, was announced last week.

The reception room was profusely decorated with pink gladioli, waxy white Easter lilies, palms and baskets of ferns.

In the receiving party were Mrs. Restarick, Mrs. McGrew and Miss Lachmund. Mrs. Restarick was gowned in cream-colored silk with over-dress of silk net embroidery and chiffon, with a touch of antique blue Chinese silk embroidery. Mrs. McGrew was very pretty, becomingly gowned in pale green, with gold-beaded bands and silk crepe.

Miss Lachmund was charming in a modish green and white tulle which set off her exquisite blonde beauty and beautiful coloring. She wore a corsage bouquet of deep purple pansies.

The reception took place at Bishop Restarick's home, Emma square. The hostesses were assisted by Mrs. Harry von Holt, Miss Marie von Holt, Mrs. W. L. Emory, Mrs. L. T. Peck, Miss Gillet, Miss Frances Gillet, Mrs. Lawrence Judd, Mrs. L. F. Tolson, Mrs. Charlotte R. Pentland, Miss Claire Oakes, Miss Frances Hamlin, Miss Mabel Schaeffer, Miss Katherine Raymond, Miss Carolyn Raymond, and a bevy of the St. Andrew's primary girls. Hawaiian songs were rendered by the primary sextet at intervals.

The color scheme for the drawing room was pink gladioli and St. Joseph lilies. The front lawn showed red hibiscus and baskets of rare, old-fashioned red flowers. The back lawn had pink sweet peas. In the dining room, yellow predominated, quantities of yellow lilies and ferns and palms and hanging baskets being most effectively used.

Mrs. Pentland presided over the refreshing fruit punch. Following were the guests asked to enjoy the hospitality of this charming household.

AN ENGAGEMENT OF TWO POPULAR HONOLULUANS

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Soper announce the engagement of their daughter, Blanche Ethel, to Mr. Walter R. Croft.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED OF DEEP INTEREST

Word comes from the mainland of the engagement of Miss Kathryn Williams, daughter of Mrs. K. C. Cyster, and Mr. Frederick August Schaeffer, Jr., youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Schaeffer.

The wedding will take place very shortly. The news is no great surprise to the friends of the young couple, for last winter it was realized it was a case of mutual devotion.

Miss Williams' home is in Spokane, Washington, where she has been a great social favorite.

Honolulu is delighted that she is to live here.

MRS. JOHN TRENNHOLM WARREN HONORS MRS. WALTER DUISENBERG

One of the prettiest teas given in a long time in Honolulu was that on Thursday afternoon and over which Mrs. John Trenholm Warren presided as hostess, complementing Mrs. Walter Duisenberg, a bride of this year.

Pink was the predominating color note in all the rooms. Forget-me-nots and pink crocuses were daintily arranged on the land. Big baskets and pink begonias with their luxuriant leaves and ferns were attractively grouped. Easter lilies were also used in the lovely living room.

Begonias and ferns were used in the dining room. On the table was a large basket filled with same pretty blossom, the handle being tied with a huge French bow of rose-colored tulle ribbon. Sprays of ferns were scattered over the satin damask. Everything possible was heart shaped, the candles, cakes and bonbons all being thus symbolic of the occasion and reminiscent of the four brides who were in the receiving line. The refreshments were of the simple "war time" variety.

Mrs. Warren will entertain the women who assisted at the tea next Thursday afternoon at half past two. It was a charming and beautifully arranged tea, giving a great deal of pleasure to the complimented guests and the honor guests, all of whom wore their wedding gowns. The rooms were lighted with unshaded tapers, making a pretty effect. All of the ladies assisting were in evening frocks.

This is the third of Mrs. Warren's recent series of parties.

Mrs. David F. Thrum and Mrs. Malcolm MacIntyre poured tea and coffee the first hour and Mrs. Thrum and Mrs. Samuel W. Tay poured for the last hours. Others assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Louis J. Warren, Mrs. Oscar Phillips, Mrs. Louis E. Davis, Mrs. Stuart Johnson, Mrs. Ray Allen, and Mrs. J. Howard Ellis.

Assisting in the reception room and lanai were Mrs. Charles Hemenway, Mrs. Charles Frazier, Mrs. Harry H. Blodgett, Mrs. J. R. Brown, Mrs. Harold Lyon, Mrs. Henry Bicknell, Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. William D. Adams, Miss Mabel Armstrong, and Miss Elia Westmuller.

Receiving with Mrs. Warren were Mrs. Walter Duisenberg, the guest of honor, Mrs. Shirley Bush (nee Hawk), Mrs. Archibald Guild (nee Wilson), Mrs. James Ogg (nee Danforth), and a prospective bride, Miss Ruth Richards.

The gowns in the receiving line were:

Mrs. Warren—Turquoise blue tulle and white orchids.

Mrs. Duisenberg—Wedding gown, pale flesh-colored satin with overdress of cream lace beaded; lavender orchids.

Miss Ruth Richards—Gray silk with built-in blue garniture.

GEN. AND MRS. SAMUEL I. JOHNSON HONOR OFFICERS OF THE JAPANESE WARSHIP AZUMA

A poi supper that was perfect in every detail was given on Monday evening by General and Mrs. Samuel I. Johnson, N. G. H., to Capt. Nihiro and officers of the visiting Japanese warship Azuma.

The feast was served on the broad lanai of the Moana hotel amid beautiful surroundings.

The lanai was screened in to represent a morning glory covered arbor. The trellises were hung and interwoven with morning glory blooms and greenery. From the indirect light overhead festoons of this pretty flower were artistically brought to the four table corners. Dainty Japanese lanterns concealed electric lights which cast a pretty, soft light.

The table was a hollow square, the center being a miniature lake with a fountain. Little ducklings disported themselves and made merry during the feast. On either side of the lake was a miniature field of lilies and palms. The table was covered with fish-tail fern and scattered profusely with blossoms and petals of golden coreopsis. Miniature forts of sand with gun batteries and silent, gaudy soldiers lent a martial air to the whole.

At each guest cover was a noise making appliance and of noise there was no end, for it was not a formal party. The name cards depicted Hawaiian maidens in grass skirts and ilima leis, and were most attractive. On the back of each chair was a malle and ilima lei which, as the guests were seated, was put about their necks.

As the guests were assembling the Hawaiian band played, and also during the feast and for the dancing afterwards. Speeches in a happy vein were made by Governor Pinkham, Capt. Nihiro and General Johnson.

The party continued until nearly midnight. It was a very beautiful affair and the poi supper left no wish unfulfilled. The hotel management spared no effort to make this party a pleasurable one.

General and Mrs. Johnson's guests were: Capt. Nihiro, the guest of honor; Governor Lucius E. Pinkham; General and Mrs. Frederick S. Strong, Consul-General R. Moroi, Capt. and Mrs. George Clark, Commodore and Mrs. Dennis Mahan, Japanese Vice Consul and Mrs. Mural, Mayor and Mrs. John Lane, Chief Justice and Mrs. Alexander G. M. Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. von Hamm, Mr. and Mrs. S. Awoki, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chillingworth, Major and Mrs. James Dougherty, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds E. McGrew, General and Mrs. Charles G. Treat, Col. and Mrs. Charles Bryant Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. George August, Lieut. and Mrs. Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Imai, Senator and Mrs. Robert Shingle, Dr. and Mrs. Clifford B. High, Mr. and Mrs. Takakuwa, Mrs. Victor Houston, Mrs. Augustus E. Murphy, Mrs. Frances Reed, Mrs. Charles Forbes, Miss Vera Damon, Miss Thelma K. Murphy, Miss Treat, Miss Louise Clark, Commander Matsusaka, Commander Nakajima, Lieut. Fukuma, Mr. Kurakawa, Major Laurence Redington, Col. James Irons, Lieut. Wallace Philcox, Col. William Weigel and Lieut. Charles Lyman.

A BOX AT SATURDAY'S RACES

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad C. von Hamm entertained Capt. and Mrs. Jack Hayes, Miss Bertha Young, Capt. James Gallagher and Mr. Pierson at the races last Saturday afternoon.

After the races all went to the Moana and there enjoyed a refreshing cup of tea on the lanai.

A WEEK-END AT WAIPIO

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Allen entertained a jolly company at a week-end party at Waipio from Friday to Sunday evening.

Those enjoying this pleasant outing were Miss Dorothy Guild, Miss Pauline Schaeffer, Miss Sara Lucas, Miss Ruth Soper, Mr. Thornton Lyman, Mr.

MRS. JAMES F. MORGAN HONORS MISS RUTH RICHARDS

Miss Ruth Richards' marriage on June 29 to Mr. Frank Midkiff has been the motif for innumerable complimentary affairs. All of her friends vie with each other to honor this delightful and popular girl, who is a daughter of Hawaii, or, rather, one should say a granddaughter, so long has her family been a part of this country's life.

Mrs. James F. Morgan presided as hostess this week at such an event. For this informal and pleasant afternoon the guests brought work-bags; needles flew in and out on feather stitching, dusters, wash cloths and towels. Those who were Mrs. Morgan's guests and who performed this pleasant task were Mrs. William Hoops, Jr., Mrs. David Larsen, Mrs. Jack Young, Mrs. John Fleming, Mrs. Harry Irvin, Mrs. David Oleson, Mrs. Cyril Hoops, Mrs. Merwin Carson, Mrs. Theodore Cooke, Mrs. Howard Bode, Mrs. Jack Guard, Mrs. Ned Loomis, Mrs. Stanley McKendie, Mrs. Percy Nottage, Miss Bernice Halstead, Miss Ramona Marks, Miss Ruth McChesney, Miss Martha McChesney, Miss Ruth Anderson, Miss Pauline Schaeffer, Miss Lucas, Miss Muriel Hind, Miss Violet Atherton, Miss Edna Curtis, Miss Bess Morrison, Miss Letitia Morgan, Miss May Sutherland and Miss Ramona Morgan.

MRS. HENRY WATERHOUSE HONORS MRS. ALEXANDER ISENBERG

Mrs. Henry Waterhouse was a luncheon hostess on Thursday last, honoring Mrs. Alexander Isenberg, who is here to spend the summer. The table was daintily pretty with a basket filled with field flowers and greens. The hour after luncheon was devoted to pleasant conversation.

Mrs. Waterhouse's guests were Mrs. Alexander Isenberg, the honor guest, Mrs. F. W. Klebahn, Mrs. Georg Rodiek, Mrs. Walter Duisenberg, Mrs. Frederick J. Lowrey, Mrs. Charles M. Cooke, Mrs. Andrew Fuller, Mrs. A. J. Campbell and Mrs. Irene Holloway.

A JOLLY DAY AT WAIANAE

A jolly set of picnic folk enjoyed Sunday afternoon at Waianae beach. A swim was the first pleasure. Later a picnic supper was a happy inspiration. Late in the evening all motored back to town. Those enjoying the outing were Mrs. Henry Macfarlane, Mr. and Mrs. George Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lucas, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Paxson, Miss Mary Lucas, Miss Harriet Lucas, Miss Ella Ward and Miss Lady Macfarlane.

MRS. JAMES OGG AN HONORED GUEST

Mrs. James Ogg was the guest of honor at a bridge tea over which Mrs. G. Rogers and Mrs. L. E. Hooper presided as hostesses on Tuesday afternoon.

Bridge, with its deep attraction for its devotees, kept the guests busy. Those scoring highest and awarded trophies were Mrs. Herbert B. Weller, Mrs. Arthur Davidson, Mrs. Day, Mrs. J. Morton Riggs and Mrs. Sallie H. Douglas. The gifts were dainty Chinese boxes.

About twenty-five were in attendance.

Miss Kathryn Williams, whose engagement to Mr. Frederick August Schaeffer, Jr. was announced this week.

Robert McCriston, Mr. Robert Steveser, Mr. A. Budge, Mr. Cornell Franklin, Mr. Robbins, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Ray M. Allen.

MRS. EDWARD FULLER WITSELL A LUNCHEON HOSTESS

Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell entertained a company of guests at the Outrigger Club on Monday, the occasion being the charming hostess' birthday. It was a very informal affair—with guessing games with handsome knitting-bags as favors. Gifts went to Mrs. Knowles, Mrs. Lowe, and Mrs. Hunt. On the lovely birthday cake flags and sticks, instead of candles, were colorful.

Mrs. Witsell's guests were Mesdames Strong, Hunt, Hayes, Lincoln, H. B. Lewis, Knowles, Halloran, Hartorn, Cochran, Hartnett, Pearson, and Dashiell.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE K. FRENCH ENTERTAIN DISTINGUISHED VISITORS

Dr. W. W. Willoughby, professor of constitutional law at Johns Hopkins University, Miss Laura Willoughby and Mr. A. L. Scott were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. George K. French last Thursday evening. Dr. Willoughby has acted as legal adviser to the Chinese government during the past two years, residing in Peking. He is returning to Baltimore to resume his university work. Mr. Scott has represented the Standard Oil Company in India since 1914. He is on vacation. The party passed through Honolulu on the Tenyo Maru last week. Dr. Willoughby and his host have been friends for 40 years.

MRS. ERNEST WATERHOUSE A LUNCHEON HOSTESS

Mrs. Ernest Waterhouse was a luncheon hostess on Wednesday at Lanikahe, entertaining very informally for Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Patterson, Mrs. Butler and Miss Florence Butler.

MISS CONSTANCE VON HAMM CELEBRATES HER BIRTHDAY

Miss Constance von Hamm celebrated her birthday on Monday, inviting a dozen little friends to make merry with her. The table was a quaint conception in pink and blue. Pink sweet peas and blue hydrangeas were grouped in a gilded basket. Little favors were at each place. Games were enjoyed and a jolly afternoon spent.

Miss Constance's guests were Miss Paula Rodiek, Miss Elizabeth Lewis, Miss Alice Cooke, Miss Carolyn Shepherd, Miss Virginia Watson, Miss Pauline Young, Miss Jean Dodge, Miss Anna Purdy, Miss Amelia Purdy, Miss Lillmore Watson and Miss Rosalie von Hamm.
